

Patient Informed Consent

English US - Scriber AI medical documentation workflow

NOTICE

Before we proceed with your appointment, we want to let you know that this practice may use Scriber, an AI medical documentation platform, to help capture relevant visit information and prepare a draft clinical note for clinician review. Scriber is intended to help your clinician stay focused on the conversation while reducing time spent on administrative documentation.

Your consent is important. Scriber is used only to support the documentation workflow for your care, and your clinician remains responsible for reviewing, editing, and approving the final note.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

Purpose of Scriber

Scriber may be used to help capture visit details, generate draft clinical documentation, and reduce manual administrative work during and after the appointment.

Clinician review

Scriber supports documentation workflows but does not replace your clinician's professional judgment. Your clinician reviews and approves notes before they are finalized.

Your information

Information related to your visit may be processed to create clinical documentation. The practice should confirm its storage, retention, and privacy details before using this form.

Your choice

You may ask questions, decline use of Scriber, or withdraw consent. Your care should not be affected by your choice to opt out.

BY SIGNING THIS CONSENT FORM, YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT:

1. You have been informed that Scriber may be used during your visit.
2. You understand Scriber helps create draft documentation for clinician review.
3. You understand your clinician remains responsible for the final clinical note and care decisions.
4. You understand you may opt out or withdraw consent at any time.
